

Tea Green

Established in 2014, Tea Green aims to champion high quality independent creative talent based in Scotland by hosting unique pop up events across the country. We have now exhibited the work of hundreds of artists & designers and are passionate about showcasing this wealth of creative talent to as wide an audience as possible.

Now in our 11th year, we remain committed to ensuring that Tea Green offers our exhibitors and visitors a truly unique experience, shaking up the usual retail environment, showcasing stunning works, highlighting interesting spaces and engaging the public beyond simply just passively buying something.

We are focused on ensuring our events are the best possible experience for everyone involved.

This means that you can rest assured that we will work hard to ensure we maximize the potential sales for our exhibitors and that you will be part of a well organised and friendly event.

We are looking for applications from all creative disciplines to provide a wide choice for our visitors and to also represent as much of the talent across the creative spectrum. We are looking for high levels of professionalism, quality, uniqueness and craftsmanship from our exhibitors and their work so please bare this in mind when applying and exhibiting.

Tea Green use the following initial criteria to assess all applications to any of our events

- Applicants must be based and creating work in Scotland.
- Applicants should not currently be a student on an undergraduate course. We will however accept applications from post graduate students.
- All work should be of the absolute highest quality, finished to the highest standards and displayed with creative flair.
- Applicants must show a high level of professionalism in their work and there must be an obvious commitment to their creative practice.
- Applicants must hand make, or small batch produce their work, designs must be their own and the majority of elements must be made by and/or designed by them. We will not accept applications from people who only assemble bought in components.

In addition, you will be selected based upon the information given in your application form, CV, artist statement & images provided. Alongside this Tea Green will use the following to curate the final selection.

- From experience we will assess how suitable the work is for the potential audience, the venue and the specific event applied for.
- Whether the submission meets the application criteria to apply.
- An overarching consideration of the final selection of work will also take into account how work sits together, if it compliments each other and if it provides the best choice for visitors.

If your work isn't selected for this event please do not take it to heart, spaces are very limited and demand is high. Each venue is different so not being selected for a specific venue doesn't mean you automatically won't get a space at another venue.
